

(DISCLAIMER: This is merely a script of what will be a film in the future. There may seem to be untied loopholes and confusing moments throughout the story, but that is due to intentional lack of detail and emphasis in order to prevent a cluttered script. Improper grammar and word/sentence structure may also be present in the descriptive lines (italicized lines). The script may evolve more in the future amid movie production as well. It might even sound like complete garbage to some people in this form, but this will become a genuine and elaborate story once FULLY complete. Enjoy!)
